Talia’s main passions are working with youth activists and making music. Thus, she is the director of Jewish Youth for Community Action (www.jyca-justice.org) and a musician performing as Entirely Talia (www.facebook.com/EntirelyTalia).

“The Oberlin College Dialogue Center was a formative time in my Oberlin experience, helping me to further my skills as a facilitator for social justice. I continue to use these skills every day in my work with youth activists out in the Bay Area, California. I continue to wrestle with concepts of ‘multi-partiality’ in how it pertains to the work of organizing. Congratulations on 10 great years!”