Joelle Eliza Lingat is a first year environmental studies major from Jersey City, New Jersey. She is also interested in photography, dance, and giggling! Joelle is incredibly excited to be working with OCDC and is incredibly proud of its 10th anniversary!

This is Joelle’s first year as a member of OCDC.

“The most moving moments were definitely during the OCDC training earlier this year. Every topic, skit, and conversation led to more and more realizations about society as a whole, the people around me, and myself. Within the span of 50 hours, I learned so much, and because of it, I continue to learn through this way to this day.”
