

The Charles Beebe Martin Classical Lectures

A Historical Summary

THE CHARLES BEEBE MARTIN FOUNDATION
MARTIN (CHARLES BEEBE) LECTURESHIP
(Pooled General Endowment Funds - Restricted Lectureships, President's Office)

This fund was established by gifts of many friends of Professor Charles Beebe Martin, '76, in recognition of his service of more than forty years as a teacher of Greek and the Fine Arts. The income is to be used in procuring lecturers of international fame, exhibitions and other educational activities that may be thought advisable by those in charge of the Classical Department.

Volumes I-XXX were published by the Harvard University Press by arrangement with the Martin Classical Lectures Committee. Thereafter a new series was established, with publication by the Princeton University Press. Each volume, except the first, was delivered by a single individual and accordingly each such volume has its own title.
