Thornton Pubs/abstracts since 2012.
*Denotes Oberlin student.

Gandha, TM*, deWinstanley, PA, Ehrman, KJ*, and Thornton, JE (2003). Classroom learning from research-like activities. Poster presentation at the Workshop on Motivating Students to Pursue STEM Careers, Oberlin OH.

Thornton, JE (2011). Developing and implementing undergraduate neuroscience curricula: Oberlin college as a case study. Invited talk at the workshop The Future of Undergraduate Neuroscience Curricula: Designing, Evaluating, and Inspiring Change, organized by Hardwick J, Kerchner, M, and Thornton J. This workshop was part of the Faculty for Undergraduate Neuroscience conference on Undergraduate Neuroscience Education at Pomona College, Claremont CA, July 2011.

Goldberg A*, Riordan A*, Burnham V* and Thornton J (2013). Development of an immunohistochemical assay to detect cell proliferation deficits in the dentate gyrus of rats after subchronic PCP treatment. Scientific abstract and poster presentation for the Midwest/Great Lakes Undergraduate Research Symposium in Neuroscience, September 2013, Wabash College, Crawfordsville, IN.

Bohm-Levine N*, Goldberg A*, Thornton JE (2014). Estradiol and luteinizing hormone affect brain-derived neurotrophic factor levels in ovariectomized female rats. Scientific abstract and poster presentation at the Midwest/Great Lakes Undergraduate Research Symposium in Neuroscience (mGluRs), September 2014, Wabash College, Crawfordsville, IN.

