WAYS LAW AND SOCIETY MAJORS RISE

RESEARCH:
• Errors in Judgment: The Fundamental Attribution Error and Supreme Court Decision-Making
• Myth vs. Reality: Uncovering the Causes of African American Voter Turnout in American Cities
• Deconstructing Hypermasculinity: Combatting the War on Black Men

INTERNSHIPS:
• New York State Office of the Attorney General, Albany, N.Y.
• Environmental Defense Fund, New York City
• McSilver Institute for Poverty Policy and Research, New York City
• American Jensen & Jensen Law Firm
• Illinois Coalition for Immigrant and Refugee Rights

STUDY AWAY:
• CIEE Social Sciences Program in Amsterdam, Netherlands
• London School of Economics and Political Science, England
• Institute for Study Abroad-Butler Cuba Study Abroad at Universidad de La Habana, Cuba
• Institute for Study Abroad-Butler, St. Catherine’s College, England
• American University, Washington Semester Program

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING:
• Oberlin Law Scholars Program, a unique, selective, year-long program for 12 students per year
• The major often serves as a springboard to careers or further study in journalism, education and teaching, litigation, and legal advocacy.

FIRST DESTINATIONS OF RECENT LAW AND SOCIETY MAJORS:
• Graduate School: PhD in sociology, University of Notre Dame; JD, American University; JD, Tulane University Law School; JD, Northwestern University Law School; JD, Harvard Law School; JD, Georgetown University Law Center; Master of Arts, Modern European Studies, University College of London
• Positions: Research coordinator, Virginia Commonwealth University; corporate paralegal, Ropes and Gray; Teach for America, Mississippi; admissions counselor, University of Michigan; development fellow, African Leadership Foundation; Fulbright Fellow

CONTACT:
Professor Harry Hirsch: harry.hirsch@oberlin.edu