WAYS POLITICS MAJORS RISE

RESEARCH:
- Labor Militancy in Education: The Chicago Teachers Union
- Songs of Change: How Music Helped Spark the Arab Spring Revolutions in Egypt and Tunisia
- Published Work: “Dynamics of Disruption and Stewardship of Water: Networks in the Syrian Civil War,” Journal of Undergraduate International Studies
- Racialized Discussions of Welfare in Congressional Floor Speeches

Paid Research with Faculty:
- Talk Show Campaigns: Presidential Candidates on Daytime and Late Night Television
- Congressional Campaigns and Representation in the Internet Age
- Connecting with the Courts: Online Access to State Judicial Systems
- From Protest to Policymaking: Black Legislative Strategies in the Post-War Era
- Responding to Racial Resentment: How Racial Resentment Shapes the Rhetoric of Members of Congress
- New Democracy in China

INTERNSHIPS:
- Winter term congressional internships
- UNITE HERE labor union
- Arab Studies Institute
- Winter term in Guatemala, city sister to Oberlin

STUDY AWAY:
- Oberlin-in-London
- London School of Economics
- Bard Globalization and International Affairs
- School for International Training
- Arabic studies in Morocco and Jordan
- Spain, Cuba, Netherlands, England, Ireland, Scotland, Sweden, France, Namibia, South Africa, many more

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING:
- The Oberlin Initiative for Electoral Politics
- Congressional winter term
- Oberlin Research Group (ORG): student consultant group conducts applied research for area political and non-profit managers on county problems

continued on reverse
FIRST DESTINATIONS OF RECENT POLITICS MAJORS:

• Graduate Schools: JD at Washington College of Law at American University; JD at Wake Forest University School of Law; JD at University of Minnesota Law School; JD at NYU School of Law; MA in journalism, Columbia University; MA at University of California Los Angeles School of Education and Information Studies; PhD in political science, University of California Los Angeles; JD at Georgetown Law School; JD at Yale Law School; Harris School of Public Policy, University of Chicago; PhD in political science, University of California Berkeley; PhD in political science, University of Chicago; PhD in political science, University of Pennsylvania

• Positions: talent assistant, MSNBC, N.Y.; wire editor, Ketchikan Daily News, Alaska; research and development intern, American Friends of the Hebrew University, N.Y.; senior field organizer, Arizona Democratic Party; editorial intern, The American Prospect; pre-K teacher, Richmond, Calif.; communications assistant, Reconstructionist Rabbinical College, Pa.; analyst, Pew Research Center; legislative aide, Capitol Hill; media assistant, GMMB; developer, Sustainable Associates; deputy communications directors on various electoral campaigns; finance staff on various electoral campaigns; Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, India; legislative assistant, Massachusetts legislature; legislative assistant, Ohio legislature; researcher, Pew Research Center

CONTACT:
Professor Stephen Crowley, chair: stephan.crowley@oberlin.edu